

GWV organiza debate sobre transformación digital en sector agua para mitigar impactos del COVID-19

Oportunidades e impacto para el sector de agua, saneamiento e infraestructura:

Global Water Works (GWV) organizará un debate en vivo con 4 líderes globales sobre cómo la transformación digital en el sector agua contribuye a mitigar los impactos de la pandemia del coronavirus (COVID-19).

Este evento está dirigido a empresas, profesionales y autoridades del sector agua y saneamiento.

Fecha: martes 12-mayo-2020

Hora: 13h00 EST, 12h00 de Ecuador continental

Idioma: Inglés

En este link puede registrarse gratuitamente online.

How COVID-19 Made the Case for Digital Transformation in Water

In the context of a crisis, the management of #water supply, sanitation and purification services is critical. Managers must ensure continuity and quality of services, being able to overcome challenges.

Learn from industry leaders how COVID-19 is making the case for digital transformation.

EXPERT PANEL:

- Jaime Barba, Global CEO, GoAigua; Chief Digital Officer, Global Omnium
- Gary Wong, Principal, Global Water Industry, OSisoft
- Hardeep Anand, P.E., Deputy Director, Miami Dade Water & Sewer Department
- Melissa Meeker, Chief Executive Officer, The Water Tower

TAKE-AWAYS:

- How COVID-19 is Changing Utility Operations
- 9 Lessons Learned Navigating the Digital Transformation Journey

- Resources to Support Continued Learning, Including an EBook on a COVID-19 Success Story

Bring your questions to get answers from the experts during an extended Q&A.

LIVE DISCUSSION May 12th 1PM EST

How COVID-19 Made the Case for Digital Transformation in Water
Experiences from Global Leaders

go-aigua
SWAN
GlobalWaterWorks

Jaime Barba
Global CEO, GoAigua
Chief Digital Officer, Global
Omnium

Gary Wong
Principal
Global Water Industry
OSIsoft

Hardeep Anand
P.E., Deputy Director
Miami Dade Water & Sewer Department

Melissa Meeker
Chief Executive Officer at
The Water Tower

Fuente: Pablo Calabuig, CEO de GoAigua, 29-abril-2020.